

MEMORANDUM

DRAFT-Preliminary Alternatives & Performance Measures

TO: Steve Yaeger/CFBDP
FROM: Ron Ott/CT Team Coordinator
DATE: November 28, 1995

Attach are the Consultant Team's(CT) drafts of 32 preliminary alternatives and 10 draft performance measures. These represent work in progress as of this morning. Work on both the alternatives and performance measures will continue this afternoon.

These 32 draft preliminary alternatives are intended to represent the boundaries of a range of alternatives to resolve the primary conflicts. It must be stressed that these draft preliminary alternatives are just starting points for generation of a full set of viable alternatives. Because each uses only one approach to resolving each conflict, the preliminary alternatives are not likely to be the most satisfactory alternatives to accomplish the objectives. The best alternatives ultimately are likely to include a mix of approaches to resolving the primary conflicts. By merging, embellishing, and testing, many will be eliminated as the program moves through the process of developing a full set of viable alternatives. These should not be taken as complete alternatives for consideration. They are only the starting points.

The draft performance measures are also work in progress. They have not been tested and refined against the 32 alternatives.

Please review the attached draft material with the following in mind:

- Do the 32 draft preliminary alternatives make sense as starting points?
- Do the 32 draft preliminary alternatives define the boundary of the range of potential alternatives with the understanding that the refined alternatives will include mixes of approaches to resolving primary conflicts?
- Are the general concepts for the performance measures reasonable ways to document the informed expert judgments?

Please get your comments back to Victor by Wednesday , 28th close of business, and be prepared to begin discussion Thursday afternoon.
